Blue collar blues Singer doubles as steelworker

By Jeffrey Peyton
Staff writer

"My dad told me: 'I'm not Frank Sinatra. And you're not Frank Sinatra Jr., but that doesn't mean you're any less talented. That just means your old man's a steelworker. And that's certainly nothing to be ashamed of.'"

With those words, Eddie Starr put together the title track to his first album, Art of the Working Class.

Starr, a third-generation steelworker, is fairly well-known in union circles. But outside his fellow steelworkers at Granite City Steel and Cerro Copper, few of his Doris Avenue neighbors in Cahokia know the man across the street is a national recording artist.

Part of the anonymity is Starr's own doing. While he started out wanting nothing less than to become a rock 'n' roll superstar, he now says nothing could be further from his mind.

"This is so much better than the dreams I had as a kid," he said. "This is the real world. I'm affecting people's lives."

Starr grew up in 1960s Cahokia, listening to the music of the era — the Beatles, the Byrds and the Kinks — in his basement. Through the '70s, he played bars and clubs throughout the area.

"We played the clubs for five years," he said. "And like any good club band, we packed in some original songs and oddities, and then we had to go to the record companies."

Starr said every recording studio he approached was the same. It was the disco era, and the band was told their music was too reminiscent of the rock 'n' roll of the previous decade.

Then clubs began replacing house bands with disc jockeys. "Our agent basically told us the only way we were going to make any money was if we went on the road," Starr said. "But I had a family, and I didn't want to visit my kid whenever I happened to

Inquiry sought into allegations

The Legal and Legislative Committee of the Granite City Council has unanimously agreed to request an inquiry into allegations made by some aldermen that they were lied to in a closed session prior to a vote Oct. 22, as reported in the Oct. 27 Press-Record.

Some aldermen have said they were given inaccurate information regarding the hiring of a new police officer prior to voting on the issue. They say they were told the hiring would cost the city $4,000, but later found out the figure would cost at least $10,000 more than the figure when the cost of benefits were included.

The Legal and Legislative Committee, composed of 4th Ward Alderman Dan Brown and Dan Partney and 5th Ward Alderman Ginny O'Bear, is expected to call for the inquiry at the Nov. 5 City Council meeting.

According to a letter Brown, chairman of the committee, sent Tuesday to Mayor Vic Dee Cruse, the committee is requesting formation of a joint fact-finding commission, comprised of a member of the legal department, the legal and legislative committee and Cruse.

The letter asks that the commission investigate the matter and report its findings to the City Council no later than Dec. 1.

The letter states that the issue has placed a cloud of suspicion over the three members of the Aldermanic Police Committee, the Police Chief and the Comptroller. It asks that the three people be granted the opportunity to answer these allegations and remove that cloud.

The three members of the Police Committee said all said that the intentional misleading of the aldermen took place in the Licensing for cats? County considering the possibility

A cat fight might be brewing in Madison County. The County Board's Animal Health Committee is considering a proposal to require the vaccination and licensing of cats.

Committee Chairman Nick Hamilos said the measure would help curb stray-cat overpopulation and disease.

"Just look around. They are all over the place," he said. "And there is no way to keep track of them."

Hamilos said the proposal, initiated by the Madison County Humane Society, would probably draw some complaints.

"I know the farm areas are not going to be happy with it," he said.

Humane Society President Ledy VanKavage said the organization would be willing to make exceptions in certain situations. "We're concerned about feral cats. We've made certain exclusions."

Hamilos said the committee, which has just begun to look at the problem, has suggested a $5 fee for the one-time licensing of neutered or spayed cats and $8 for others. Vaccinations would be required each year. The county has similar regulations for dogs.

The license fee could bring in about $20,000 to $25,000 a year for the county, although Hamilos said the committee is concerned primarily with regulating the number of cats and curbing disease.

"The cat is not the main thing. The idea is not to generate money for the county," he said.

"We get a lot of calls about cats running wild. And rabies is one reason we are looking at it."

"Just look around. They (cats) are all over the place. And there is no way to keep track of them."

— Nick Hamilos
Committee chairman

"Cats are exposed to a lot more diseases because they are natural hunters," VanKavage said. Mandatory vaccinations would help prevent the spread of diseases such as rabies.

VanKavage said the $5 license difference is intended to persuade people to spay and neuter cats. "It's a kind of a carrot-and-stick approach," she said. "You can get a cat fixed for $15."

Licensing could help residents reclaim lost cats.

"Right now, there's no great reclaim rate for cats," she said.

About 2,000 cats were destroyed by the county last year. VanKavage said 93 percent of cats picked up by animal control workers are destroyed.

Cats are held for three days before being destroyed. Dogs are kept for five days if they are not tagged and seven days if they are licensed.

Hamilos said the committee will not take action for at least two months. "We want to go first to the public and get their response," he said.

Leaf-burning ban lifted in Madison

By Valerie Evenden
Staff writer

Madison residents may burn leaves starting Friday.

A decision to allow open leaf burning during November was announced by Mayor John Bellcoff of Madison City Council meeting Tuesday night.

Thick layers of leaves cushion the yards, driveways and sidewalks and are getting to be a big problem for those who have been unable to get rid of the densely-packed leaves even if raked into piles, the mayor said.

Burnings in the past few days have added to the problem, with leaves washing along gutters and clogging up catch basins in some areas.

A spell of dry weather may be needed before most of the leaves can be burned.

"We are going to allow leaf burning in the city of Madison during the month of November. Residents are reminded to burn the leaves on their own yards and not on the driveway or sidewalks," Bellcoff said.

People should burn the leaves safely and during daylight hours only, the mayor said.

"Judge accordingly and burn when there's no wind around. Try to have someone standing by while you're burning, we need to, and have to extend it a little more (than November), we will," Bellcoff said.

Leaf burning is legal in an area the size of Madison, although the city is required to do all it can to improve air quality.

Burnings of leaves and the city has not decided whether to delay enforcement of the open-burning ban this fall.

Leaf burning has been cited as a source of pollution that is hazardous to some people, he said.

In other Madison City Council business, action is being taken to clear out some vacant property near Seventh Street and Alton where a fire destroyed a garage and caused damage to the dwelling.

Bellcoff said the owner of the house was to meet with him this fall and give permission for the property to be torn down. An elderly person formerly lived at the address.

Halloween safety stressed

By Valerie Evenden

Staff writer

With more rain predicted, safety considerations are being emphasized more than ever for tonight's annual evening of trick-or-treating.

And sponsors of the communitywide Halloween parade are making plans for foul weather if it does arrive: In the event of rain, costume judges will make their rounds in the canopied areas at Main, Bank and downtown banking center at 20th Street and Edison Avenue, said Dick Mizell, a governor of Moose Lodge 272, sponsors of the parade.

Local area municipalities have restricted trick-or-treating to 6 to 9 p.m. Madison City Council added their endorsement to the restrictions, agreeing with rules set down by Mayor John Bellcoff and Police Chief Charles Bridick that door-to-door visits for treats will be restricted to those hours.

"For the safety and welfare of the children, members of the Fire Department, the Auxiliary Police and, of course, our police officers will be out in force on Thursday night," Bellcoff said.

"Children should stay in their own neighborhoods with trick-or-treating, for safety's sake," Bellcoff cautioned.

The 6 to 9 p.m. trick-or-treating hours are the same for children living in Granite City, Pontoon Beach and Venice. Parents are asked to accompany their youngsters and make sure the children visit homes only in their own neighborhoods.

Residents are also being urged to turn on front (See SAFETY, Page 10A)

SIUE seeks local boost for stadium

SPRINGFIELD — State financing for a track stadium needed to bring the 1994 Olympic Festival to Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville faces a big hurdle.

But the university could get a leg up on getting state financing with some successful private and public fund-raising.

"They need about $5.5 million for the complex. That's quite a hurdle," State Sen. Sam Vadala, D-Edwardsville, said.

He said a group of leaders called the "Committee 200" would soon launch a drive to get money from within the area before a plea is made to the state.

Getting a commitment of state money before SIUE's deadline next summer will be difficult because the cost will depend on the financial condition of state government, Vadala said.

SIUE must have its funding sources in line by next summer or the Olympic Festival will move the track and field events to Washington University in St. Louis.

Vadala suggested that, if most of the money could be raised from other sources, showing local commitment, then it might be possible to get support from the Legislature and Gov. Jim Edgar for the rest.

He said he would introduce a bill to appropriate state money for the stadium only if the fund-raising committee asked him later.

If SIUE can raise the money, a nine-lane track surrounding a soccer field and a 5,000-seat stadium with track and field sections will be built.

James Pennekamp, who heads the Leadership Council of Southwestern Illinois, agreed with Vadala and said that a strong regional fund-raising effort would have to be made before there could be any realistic hope of getting state money.

Four are vying for three seats on Venice Board of Education

By Valerie Evenden
Staff writer

Four candidates are vying for seats on the Venice Board of Education in the Nov. 5 board election. Each seat carries a four-year term.

Three of the candidates are incumbents and are campaigning together. They are Wilbert Glasper, Gregory Katana and Janet E. Wiley.

The other candidate is Carolyn "Pam" Wilson.

Wilbert Glasper:
Wilbert Glasper, 41, has been a member of the Venice Board of Education for the past 15 years and has served as board president several terms. He and his wife, Gussie, reside at 517 Fillmore Avenue.

Gasper, a certified electrician, was a member of Electric Workers Local 309. He went to work for Anheuser Busch Corp. in the electrical department.

My main reason for seeking office is to be a great asset to the children of the community of Venice by trying to make sure that the district is providing the best programs and services with available resources and staff personnel that it can.

"The next four years I will try, as I have done for the last 15 years, to treat every issue with an open mind and to work

"I will continue to keep an open line of communication between my fellow board members, administrators, faculty and the voters of the Venice School District."

Gasper said he believes the most important challenge facing the next officeholders will be learning how to react to "the many changes that are being put upon every school district, no matter what size the district is or how wealthy or poor the district may be."

"These changes are not part of what school systems should be doing to meet from kindergarten through 12th grade, meeting the needs of the size the district is or how wealthy or poor the district may be."

"The schools are being mandated to deal with student achievement scores in math and science and to offer plans for school improvement."

"Also, many districts will have to face the challenge of crack and cocaine babies who are just now beginning to enter the school system," Katana said.

"The schools are being mandated to deal with effectively, the district must be in sound financial condition, he added.

"I am proud to say Venice District 3 is in sound financial condition now, as it has been for the last eight years at least. This does not mean it will continue to be in such condition unless the new board continues to exercise fiscal responsibility and financial prudence."

Katana said that the state of Illinois is cutting back its education budget and that school finance reform proposals may or may not have an adverse effect on Venice's future financial condition.

Janet Wiley:
Janet E. Wiley, 40, was appointed to the Venice Board of Education two years ago to fill a vacant seat. She is serving her first full term on the board.

"Technology has changed dramatically and it is important to change at an ever-increasing rate." Our school district must continue to prepare our students to compete in this ever-changing economy.

"In the past two years I have truly learned the meaning of rolling up your sleeves and going

THE LAW AND YOU

BY RICK REED
Attorney At Law

When a person sustains a personal injury resulting from someone else's negligence, the injured party is often faced with a decision of whether to settle the case or take it to trial. In most cases, the injured party will offer the victim a sum of money to settle out of Court, and the question arises as to whether it is in his best interest to accept it.

In one recent case, a person was in an automobile accident and sustained neck and back injuries. He treated at the emergency room and then received follow-up care from his family physician. He eventually wound up treating with a chiropractor for several weeks of pain. His medical bills and lost wages totaled $2500, and the insurance company offered him $7500 to settle. Should he accept this sum or allow a jury to decide the damages in his case?

The following are some advantages to taking a case to trial. One advantage is that a jury will often award more money to the victim than has previously been offered by the insurance company. Furthermore, if a person settles and signs a release, he forever discharges all parties from any further responsibility for his injuries. Taking the case to trial can keep the case open longer so that the victim has more time to determine the exact nature of his injury.

One disadvantage to taking the case to trial involves the delay in the Court process. A major personal injury case could take as much as three to four years to go to trial. Many people do not want to wait that long, and there is expense in preparing a case for trial. There are Court costs involved, the expense of depositions which are sworn statements taken prior to trial, and the cost of having an expert witness testify in Court. Testimony by many victims do not want to go to trial because they are fearful of taking the witness stand and because they do not want to miss work to appear in Court.

In light of these considerations, whether it is best to accept a proposal or go to trial in each given situation. The victim in our example decided to accept the offer and avoid the hassle of taking it to Court. It is probably best to consult with one's attorney before making a decision in any particular case.

Granite school board picks

The fact that 11 good citizens are seeking election to non-paying positions on the Granite City School Board indicates local community spirit is alive and well.

The bad news is that, since there are only three openings on the board, there will be nearly three times as many losing candidates as there will be winners.

The good news is that all of the candidates appear to be qualified to serve on the board and all have, through their campaign, shown a willingness to invest the time and effort needed to do a good job for the residents of the school district.

That said, we think three candidates have shown they deserve our support in the election.

Mack Johnson, finishing his first term, has not been a low-profile member of the board. In the heat of battle, he has sometimes said things he later wished had gone unsaid. But the good of the students has always been Johnson's motivating force and his outbursts have been passionate pleas as opposed to blind attacks. Beneath the bluster, Johnson has been a solid board member.

As a candidate in 1987, Johnson promised he would work to end nepotism in school hiring. After being elected, he was true to his word and had his wife quit her job with the district. Johnson was chairman of the citizens' committee for the 1984 bond issue. Recently, as school treasurer, he played a key role in an innovative bond program that has saved the district more than a quarter of a million dollars.

Jeff Parker has twice been appointed to the board to fill vacancies, and has been another solid member of the board.

As a police officer in Granite City, Parker has had the unhappy job of dealing with some of the area's worst citizens on a regular basis. As a board member, Parker has consistently advocated district programs designed to produce good citizens for the future.

Larry Earney has the business background needed to oversee a multi-million-dollar operation like the school district. At the same time, his experience with community organizations like the Chamber of Commerce has made him aware of the need to sometimes place the needs of the people above mere columns of numbers in a budget.

Earney's campaign theme has been board "cooperation" and will encourage the voters to elect an echo to the board, electing someone who is at loggerheads with the rest of the board is not productive, either. Earney knows how to strike a balance between getting along and not compromising principles.

In the years ahead, mandates for new programs and higher levels of performance will continue to roll in from the state and federal governments.

At the same time, those same two sources may continue to cut funding. As a result, school boards will be facing a never-ending, ever-changing crisis.

In that climate, we will need board members willing to work together, who are not afraid of new ideas and who will not lose sight of the ultimate goal of the district — our children's education — when facing demands, from within and without, that may appear overwhelming.

We believe that Mack Johnson, Jeff Parker and Larry Earney will be that kind of board members and deserve to be elected Nov. 5.

The public should know

Citizens who watch live television coverage of Granite City Council meetings know what it means when one of the aldermen requests a caucus; it means staring at the emblem of the city for 30 minutes at a time, or switching channels to catch the latest episode of "Roseanne."

But recent actions by the council raise some serious questions about the way city business is conducted in "smoke-filled rooms."

Following the Oct. 22 council meeting, when the aldermen authorized the city to hire two police dispatchers and a new police officer, several aldermen claimed they were presented incomplete information in closed session regarding the cost of the hirings — information upon which they based their vote. One alderman went so far as to say the council was lied to by the Police Committee, which had recommended the action.

Some aldermen say they were led to believe the hiring of a new patrolman would cost the city $4,000 a year. The actual cost has been estimated by the city comptroller at more than $13,000.

While all three members of the Police Committee state that nobody intentionally misled the council, and that the $4,000 figure represents salary only, excluding benefits, the aldermen nonetheless were not apprised of the actual, bottom-line cost to the taxpayers, some of them say.

One member of the committee said she may have misunderstood the actual figures and did not know whether a patrolman's salary of $27,000 included or excluded benefits.

Because Police Chief Don Knight's son is at the top of the hiring eligibility list for the police department, there is more than a remote chance that some of the complaints are politically motivated.

At question here is not the fact that Knight's son is at the top of the patrolman eligibility list — as younger Knight has been through the testing process just as any other potential officer, and should not be discriminated against just because his father is the department head. If the questions raised by some aldermen are motivated by political bickering, then the allegations are unfortunate.

Nevertheless, we think it is imperative that the taxpayers' elected representatives are as well informed as possible before they make a decision. That responsibility is especially true if the alderman is making a recommendation to the rest of the council.

The misunderstanding about the cost of the new officer, even if it was accidental, was only possible because the sole debate of the issue took place in the informal setting of a caucus. In a formal, open debate, where individual aldermen address their concerns individually to the chair, it could not have happened.

We agree that some sensitive issues — disciplinary actions, property acquisition and pending litigation — should be discussed in private to protect the public's interest. But, since the information needed for the aldermen to make a decision in this case was already public information, it would appear the only reason for the caucus was to conceal the identity of the person to be potentially hired.

To discuss matters in a closed session simply because they have the potential to be politically dangerous is to take advantage of a privilege, and to deprive the public of its right to know.

City needs to move forward

TO THE EDITOR:
We wonder what has happened to the elected officials serving the community after promises from the mayor's office to return my call, I'm still waiting.

The superintendent of streets won't get you any farther than "Wayne." Even the aldermen can't get a response.

A good name for our mayor would be "The Backwards Mayor." The city has gone backwards in every way.

For our tax money, we no longer get trash hauling, limb removal half the year, or school crossing guards, to mention a few.

What's the big deal about trash pickup? It should be a simple matter. If you have an alley, use it; if you don't, use the sidewalk. No choice for your alderman to decide.

Why would our so-called "servants of the people" even consider replacing a well-performing and hard-working alderman with part-time, out-of-town service?

How about keeping the taxpayer informed of the income and expenses of the city by publishing a monthly possible financial statement each month?

Other businesses do that and it is not difficult to do. I did it for years as a credit union manager.

There's a saying: "You can't beat City Hall." We hope the voters will show them we can do that within the next two elections by electing "forward" and not aldermen like Skubish and Crawley. They can't do more changes alone.

We hope the council and mayors will pay attention to the petitions that are being signed.

Explains Long Lake petition

TO THE EDITOR:
Voters in the Long Lake Fire Protection District, there are several structural changes that would be about you a petition I have set the record straight.

The petition, however, cost of the registered voters signatures so an issue can appear on the March ballot, an issue that we as voters can vote on and decide upon.

The issue will appear on the ballot as follows: "Shall the Trustees of the Long Lake Fire Protection District be elected rather than appointed?"

This is a petition for, nothing more or nothing less.

Let me explain why I believe voters should have the right to vote on this issue.

We as taxpayers are levied over a year, by the Fire District. This means that we pay money to the District, and we have no say whatsoever on who holds the three trustee positions. We pay them a flat dollar amount, where they spend our tax dollars or how our tax dollars are being spent.

These three trustees are currently being appointed by Nameoki Township. We as taxpayers are taxpayers should have the right to go to the polling place and vote on who should occupy these positions. They are taxing us, so why don't we have the right to vote on who the trustees go into office? We can have this issue, if we can get this issue on the ballot.

Then, we will vote the way we feel. If the voters feel that they can't make a decision and how their dollars are to be spent, they can vote that these positions should be elected rather than appointed.

Then the trustees would have to run in a future election, and voters would be able to vote for the person or persons that we think are best qualified to hold that position.

We should have a voice in this issue. If voters think trustees should be appointed, then at least we had a voice in the matter.

On the other hand, if voters feel that since they are paying their hard-earned tax money and should have a voice in who should be trustees, then we have also had a voice in who should be trustees.

As we stand now, we have no voice; anyone can occupy these three trustee seats without the voters' voice. They are saying we can pay our tax money to them, but we have no say.

The rumors that you may have heard are false. This petition is only asking for 10 percent of the registered voters to sign it. At that time, I will give the petition to the board and then it will go to the voters to put it on the ballot.

Then the voters will decide the outcome of this issue.

TO THE EDITOR:
Try to imagine life without your telephone. What once was a considered luxury is now a must.

Whether you're looking for job interviews, calling the doctor, summoning emergency services or just keeping in touch with family and friends, the telephone is America's primary means of communication.

Not long ago, local phone service was a simple, affordable commodity available to more and more consumers every year.

In recent years, however, the cost of owning and operating a phone has increased significantly and if Illinois Bell and the rest of the telephone companies have their way, those bigger price hikes are on the horizon.

Illinois' telephone law expires at the end of the year and the state Legislature will be under the gun this fall to rewrite the rules governing telephone pricing.

Illinois Bell is leading the phone industry in the push for political changes in the way phone rates are set, changes that would virtually guarantee excessive phone rates for consumers and windfall profits for the phone companies.

Under the plan crafted by Bell, local phone rates would no longer be based on the cost of providing service, as they have been ever since Ma Bell was given monopoly status to provide phone service some 70 years ago.

Instead, rates could be tied to prices in other states, the inflation rate or any other arbitrary factor, or the Illinois Commerce Commission (ICC) agree on. That means phone rates could increase even though company costs are going down.

Bell and the rest of the state's phone companies want lawmakers to gut current safeguards in the law that protect consumers from price gouging, putting your phone rates on a one-way elevator.

Plant neighbors not protected

TO THE EDITOR:

I am a former 40-year resident of Granite City. I grew up on Missouri Avenue and my dad still lives there.

I am writing concerning the picture of an environmental specialist entering the Jennison-Wright property.

This specialist is outfitted with a special protective suit and hood with a face shield. He has special shoes to wear.

He is very carefully protected against the contaminants he will face when he enters the property.

My dad and his neighbors have no such "special clothing" to protect them. The children that live next door to my dad on the remainder of the block have nothing to protect them. They live in their yards and live their lives.

But the Environmental Protection Agency man I guess he is, is not doing any damage. The remaining materials are barrels filled with toxic wastes, the pools of creosote, the storage cars that once held (and maybe still do) these toxic chemicals. He is not doing any damage.

What are the people living in the area? I guess they are "used to it" and don't require any "special protection."

Our friend, Illinois EPA coordinator is not satisfied with just beautifying this property. The holes in the fence have been fixed, will keep people out, but, of course, they will contain the still-escaping toxins.

In the meantime, does anyone want to buy a house on Missouri Avenue? The price is extremely reasonable.

The First Deaths

Once there was a small state called Pennsylvania. In that state there lived a baker.

Close by his shop lived an evil scientist. He was experimenting in many ways. One day he came up with a potion and put it in some doughnuts. He took the doughnuts to the baker. The baker tried one and he did not think they were very good.

Later that night the baker felt strange. Well, he took some aspirin and went to sleep.

That night he walked in his sleep. He walked to an abandoned castle and was turned into a ghost. His face was showed his face in daylight again.

Some people say he still comes out and drinks his fill at night. But everyone knows that vampires are the ones to grow fat because they have the best bakery in town.

Some people even say that Pennsylvania vampires only drink coffee with their cinnamon rolls.

Mystery at Spooky Mansion

One foggy night long, long ago, there lived a famous detective named Sara. She had two trusted friends. Their names were Kate and Amanda.

One foggy night long, long ago, Amanda was on her way to Sara's when somebody grabbed her. She was beautiful and famous for her love of sports. She screamed "Help!" but nobody heard her except Kate, who lived just down the street.

Kate looked out the window fast enough, just fast enough to see her running down the street.

Finally, they came back with nearly half the people.

Since there weren't enough said they should track down the kidnappers. Kate agreed.

The friends left the street. They were about to come to the edge of town when they heard a blood-curdling scream. Just then they saw the kidnapper running into the mansion.

The people thought the spooky old house was haunted. They slowly crept up to the mansion. As they walked in, the door suddenly burst open.

Then all of a sudden a strange, very queer thing happened. When Sara leaned against the wall, it uncovered a secret passage way. It was a long, dark hallway.

When they reached the end, were they surprised! They could hardly speak. There, right before their eyes, were the sleeping children who had been kidnapped all through the years. They carried the sleeping children to their cars.

When they reached the police station, the children, including Amanda, were returned to their parents.

They tried to offer Kate and Sara a reward. The girls beamed at the offer but happily said, "No thank you!"

The Hidden Face

Once upon a time in Little Rock, Ark., there lived a group of girls. They were all best friends.

On Oct. 31 (Halloween), they all planned to meet at Hall's Graveyard. Everyone was there except Stacy.

They decided to go trick-or-treating without her. A few hours later, they thought they heard Stacy calling them. They all turned around but only a little black kitten was there.

They started to walk on, but they heard Stacy's voice again. This time it was closer. They all started to run.

They ran into something. Jessica said it looked like a goth. She said it was ugly and Emily said it looked like her sister. The rest started to run until they were safely inside their homes.

The next day Jessica called a meeting at her house. Stacy didn't come. They were all worried.

Jessica started talking about their terrifying night. "What do you think that ugly thing was?" asked Rachel. "It was me," said her sister.

"Stop kidding around!" said Stacy. "But I'm not kidding!"

"OK, listen up!" said Jessica. "We lost Stacy." "We saw a hidden face and it sounded like Stacy. So our problem is solved."

"What?" said Joie. "Well, you see, Stacy tried to scare us!"

"Oh," said Joie. "Look, here comes Stacy!"

"Hi guys," Stacy said. "Why did you scare us?" asked Joie. "I wanted to see you guys scare," argued Stacy. "Well, don't ever scare us again, OK?" they cried. "OK," Stacy replied.

And they all started to laugh.

The Other Side of the Closet

One stormy night so long ago, there lived a nine-year-old girl named Joanna. Joanna was as poor as dirt.

But her dream came true when a little girl named Sara moved into the cottage next to her. Every night, Joanna would be haunted. Sara's mom and dad said, "No, we are not moving. We love this house!"

One night while Joanna was sleeping, a bright light came from the closet and started glowing and making a noise. Sara and Joanna moved toward the closet. All of a sudden, a totally different girl had reached out and grabbed Sara.

It jerked her into the closet. Joanna bravely jumped into the closet after Sara. Once she got in, Sara was not in sight.

Out through the door, Joanna trudged. Her heart was lonely and almost completely broken.

Then she saw a strange, eerie sight, an old eerie castle on what looked like a volcano.

Joanna thought it simply horrible that it was Sara who was in a time bomb. For that's what a live volcano is.

As Joanna bravely marched up to the dimly lit castle, she saw them. Yikes! They were green and slimy.

Joanna hated to think what the other girls looked like. "Let me in!" commanded Joanna.

"Not by the hair of my chin chin chin!" replied the smart-aleck guards.

Joanna marched right back into the forest and cried. As she walked on, she found a wolf skin. She placed it around herself.

Joanna marched back up the hill to the castle. She said, "I am a wise sister of your master." The guards weren't too bright, and let her in.

Joanna knew she was risking her life to save another person's life. She knew the dangers and consequences, but she also knew the reward. Chocolate sundae! All gooney and rich, she promised herself.

Joanna was frightened, especially when she saw their master. He had a deathly pale and hollow-cheeked face like a skull.

Just then, the ground started shaking. Oh no! The volcano was erupting.

Joanna grabbed Sara and ran out of the castle. The guards were caught in the ash storm. Out they ran! The lava was catching up to them.

The girls ran for the portal and ended up back in Sara's room. They were safe, but panicking into the closet. "Shut it!" yelled Sara, totally distressed. They slammed the door shut.

Joanna and Sara whispered, "What's the matter? Are you moving?" said Sara's mom.

"This house has the shakies!"

Sara frowned. "Into Sara's house!" Sara's mom said.

"Yes," replied the girls. They knew that they would be best friends forever.

The Witch and Her Pets
With a wife and two pets. They were mean. They ate people. They were poisonous, too. They also ate children and bugs. So, beware!

By Raymond Smith, 2nd grade

Bloody Witch and Spooky

One morning Spooky, the cat, woke up on the happy side of the bed.

He was very, very happy. It was Halloween. He was jumping up and down.

Old bloody witch woke up on the wrong side of the bed. She threw a cat at Spooky.

Meow! Meow! Meow! Now he had a headache.

By Lamanda Knight, 2nd grade

House on Crooked Lane
I know the house on the corner is spooky because it's on Crooked Lane. It's the spookiest street in town.

I walked down the street, "Boo!" a ghost said.

I ran down the street into my house. My mom had monster candy. One monster came after me and scared me. The next sound I heard was my alarm waking me up.

By Matt Dittman, 2nd grade

One dark, dark night
One dark, dark night a little boy was going trick-or-treating and he went to the house on the corner.

The girl that lived there was a very spooky lady.

The lady jumped out the window on a broom and it screamed and the boy ran in the woods and the witch was chasing him.

Then the boy was even more scared. Then he realized that the girl was just his mom.

By Mike Dowdy, 2nd grade

On Halloween night
It was Halloween night and I was in my kitchen making trick-or-treat bags that had monsters on them.

Suddenly, the monsters came alive. I was scared half to death. Even Halloween costumes were coming alive. Then they just disappeared and then I woke up.

It was just a dream. Thank goodness!

By Jeremy Nighohossian, 2nd grade

The Haunted Forest
I know the forest is haunted because ghosts go down the forest road.

Mummies have a haunted parade. Things can be spooky on Halloween night.

Goblins jump out and say "Boo!"

Witches took me to the cemetery. I ran as fast as I could back to the forest.

A witch threw me in the stream. I swam out of the stream.

I never came back to the haunted forest again.

By Ryan Herman, 2nd grade

House With Nine Witches

I know the house down the hill is very spooky because nine witches live in the house, and a crooked old man.

Two bats carried me into their cave to see a witch and she turned me into a frog.

By Lauren Coppedge, 2nd grade

A Walk in the Forest

It was Halloween night. I decided to take a walk in the forest.

The wind was blowing softly and I heard footsteps behind me. Someone was breathing on my neck.

By Adam Willis, 2nd grade

I turned around and there was a ghost. Boo!

He carried me to the cemetery. Then I woke up. Thank goodness it was a dream.

By Leah Mansfield, 2nd grade

Spooky Ghost, Scary Witch

It was Halloween night and I saw a spooky ghost and a scary witch.

The ghost was taking me to a scary house. I saw mean witches at the haunted house. I was chasing him.

I thought I was going to die. Then I fell off my bed. It was only a dream.

By Candie Taylor, 2nd grade

The Horrible Dream

It is twelve o'clock at night and it is Halloween.

I went trick-or-treating and I got lost in the woods.

I felt a light touch. It felt like an old hand. But I don't know anybody.

I called for help but nobody called back.

I saw a fox behind me but it went away and then I saw a horrible witch. She had a green face.

The witch was just a sick old lady. It was just a dream.

Dippel's goal clinches regional

Warriors take on Highland tonight

By Dave Whaley
Staff writer

It's not how it's how many. The Warrior soccer team certainly wasn't spectacular Tuesday, but Granite City got the job done. A 1-0 win over Belleville East gave the Warriors their 17th regional championship in 20 seasons of state competition. Brent Dippel scored on an assist by all-star Jason Maxfield in the game's only goal.

Granite City (15-4-3) advances to the Collinsville Sectional finals tonight against Highland (17-3-1) at 7 p.m. The 6 seed Bulldogs pulled a mild surprise Tuesday by beating No. 3 Edwardsville's penalty kicks to win Regional C. Top-seeded Collinsville blasted Triad 6-1 to win Regional A and O'Fallon got by Belleville West 1-0 in double overtime on a goal by Brian Carothers.

Meanwhile, the Warriors held off the Lancers (8-3) for much of the second half, only shooting them 9-2. The game was moved up to 2 p.m. because The Gauntlet is being saved for Tuesday's super-sectional. Since the adjusters had to light the 2nd was the latest the game could be played because of the combination of the clocks being moved back Sunday and the lack of sunshine lately.

It had threatened their clocks a little," said Warrior coach Gene Baker. "We were a little flat today. They didn't have the big crowd and all their friends here to watch them and that has to have an effect."

When the season started, Baker said he would need big efforts from his top two returning seniors — Dippel and Maxfield. They've combined for four of the last six super-sectional goals and teamed up on Tuesday's lone goal. Maxfield was able to control the ball practically right on the goal line to the left of Lancer goalie Aaron Haas. He centered it and Dippel went up and headed it in at 29:00.

"Dippel has been playing well all year," said Baker. "We move him up front for one reason — to score."

Dippel leads the Warriors with 10 goals. But Lancer coach Phil Aleman thought his players might have been caught napping a little on the goal.

"They thought the ball was out of bounds along the goal line," he said. "But you can't stop playing until you hear a whistle. Good job, Brian."

Good scoring chances were few and far between for the rest (see SOCCER, Page 4B)

J. Smith verbally commits to Valparaiso

By Dave Whaley
Staff writer

Jeff Smith has made up his mind. His brother Brian is still deciding.

Warren basketball coach Bill Ohlendorf said Tuesday that Jeff Smith, one half of Granite City's 6-9 Twin Towers, has made a verbal commitment to play college basketball at Valparaiso University.

"It's a good choice for Jeff," said Ohlendorf. "Both he and Brian have played a lot of basketball over the summer and I think they've gotten stronger and better able to handle the physical play. Jeff should be able to play a lot there."

The Guardsmen are certainly looking for help. Homer Drew is 19-65 in his first three seasons. Valparaiso is a school of 3,800 students in northern Indiana. It's about 55 miles east of Waterloo, not far from Gary and Chicago. Valparaiso was a charter member of the Association of Mid-Continent

Jeff Smith
... ready to sign

Universities in 1982. That's the same conference with Northern Indiana, not far from Gary and Chicago. Valparaiso was a charter member of the Association of Mid-Continent senior this year.

Ohlendorf said Jeff Smith was quick to accept Valparaiso's offer, but Brian is holding back. "I might be a little stronger to say that it's probably he will go to Valparaiso," said Ohlendorf. "There's still a chance. But he's also talking with St. Louis U. and SIU Carbondale. They have scholarship offers."

Jeff Smith was one of the first two to accept. It's never been a No. 1 priority with them to go to the same college."

Jeff Smith averaged 10 points and 8.4 rebounds while shooting 57 percent from the field as a junior last year for the 14-12 Warriors. Brian averaged 19.5 points and 8.3 rebounds while also shooting 57 percent. Basketball practice starts at GCHS on Nov. 11. The Warriors open Dec. 6 at home against Triad.

Ohlendorf said Jeff Smith will likely sign a letter of intent with Valparaiso during the early signing period for high school seniors in November.

Bulldogs end Warrior year

By Brian Henry
Correspondent

The season ended for the Warrior volleyball team Tuesday, but much progress was shown from the start.

Highland eliminated Granite City 17-15, 15-8 in the Granite City Regional semifinals and will meet Edwardsville in the regional championship tonight at 7 p.m. in Memorial Gymnasium. The Tigers beat Triad 15-3, 15-9 in Tuesday's first semifinal.

In the season opener seven weeks ago, the Warriors were hammered 15-4, 15-11 by the Lady Bulldogs. But Granite City stretched Highland to the limit in Tuesday's first game. The Warriors led 14-11 and had three match points when through their efforts as the Bulldogs scored six of the last seven points.

"We've had problems winning close ones this year," said Highland coach Nona Holstrom. "Granite City has improved a great deal and they gave us all we could handle."

Jamie Cavaness served the Warriors to a 1-0 lead in the first game. She finished with seven points in the match. Highland came back to take a 7-5 lead behind two points from Jody Rutz and three more from Lisa Ervin.

Jennifer Wortham put the Warriors ahead 11-7 with six straight service points. Cavaness got two more and Karen Sykes made it 14-11. Jamie Fischer (13 points) scored the last in a row as Highland tied the score.

"Jamie played an excellent game," said Holstrom. "She serves pretty tough, but she had her best game of the season tonight."

Amy Krakowiecki tied it at 15-15, but Karen Bruggemann scored the last two points for Highland.

"The girls just didn't have the right mental toughness to put the game away," said Granite City coach Cindy Gagich. "In the past they've thought, 'We're playing and get it over with,' but that's just a misconception. They have to overcome that."

Highland didn't give the Warriors a chance in the second game, jumping out to an 8-0 lead and never looking back. Stephenie Kult did serve four straight points to make it 8-4, but that was as close as it got.

"Edwardsville will be a tough team, but the girls are fired up to win the regional," said Holstrom.

Gagich hoped her team would be around the .500 mark, but they ended 8-14. That's twice as many wins as 1993.

"It's been frustrating at times because they have the potential and they can play with most of these teams," Gagich said. "The program is coming around. It's just going to take a few years, but we'll get there."

One goal Gagich thought the team reached was earning the respect of the opposition. The Warriors' logo is the letter "W" (Wortham, Sykes and Cavaness Brown), but a group led by Cavaness and Kult returns. That group has been together three years.

"I was pleased with the season," Gagich said. "The girls have come a long way. I know they can go places."

Warrior win will keep Lancers out of playoffs

By Dave Whaley
Staff writer

If it's the last day of the football season must be ending.

"That's been the story for the Warriors this year," said Ohlendorf. "They have finished the regular season against the Lancers each time, and it hasn't been close. East has rolled to four easy wins."

It's not going to be easy for the Lancers (5-3) on Friday in a 7:30 p.m. game at Memorial Stadium. But East will be pulling out all the stops. They'll win to win to put themselves in the playoff picture. The Warriors (7-1) are already there.

It's possible a Lancer victory could bring about revenge for the Warriors at the first round of the playoffs. But Granite City isn't thinking about that. The Warriors want to dash East's playoff hopes like the Lancers did to the Warriors last year's regional finale.

Both teams went into a game at Belleville Township Stadium with 5-3 marks. The Lancers advanced and sent the Warriors out again on Friday.

"I don't think revenge is the right way to play," said Lancer coach Mike McGinnis. "You just have to concentrate on playing good football. We've been fortunate to have good success against Granite City."

It's not just last year. In the four previous season finales, the Lancers have beaten the Warriors by a cumulative 162-19. In each of the last three years, Mike McGinnis has taken East to the playoffs. He also took riots home with a 47-6 thrashing. But good from East are players like quarterback Gary Sneyd running back Deluan Fowler and receiver Jeff Rousseau. Revenge has to be on Warrior minds.

"The guys don't talk about revenge or anything else during the week," said Warrior assistant coach Bob Stegemeier. "They just like to have fun. But they're pretty serious on Friday night."

1930 under the name of Charles Francis. An infielder, he also played for Beaumont (Tex.), Toledo (Ohio), Indianapolis (Ind.), Oklahoma City, Shreveport (Tex.), Lubbock (Tex.), Marshall (Tex.), Dallas, St. Paul (Minn.), Montreal, Temple (Tex.) and Tyler (Tex.) before retiring as an active player following the 1964 season.

His best season was in Marshall in 1940 when Parker led the East Texas League with a .349 average, 444 at-bats, 115 runs, 53 hits, 71 RBIs, 100 runs leading, 46 doubles, 92 runs and 94 walks. He was named to the All-Star team that year as he also led league shortstops in fielding, putouts and double plays in 1940.

He led Texas League shortstops in fielding in 1934 with Beaumont; led West Texas-New Mexico League shortstops in 1935 with Lubbock; and led double plays in 1939 with Dallas; and led Texas League third basemen in putouts in 1941 and 1942. After a year of military service in 1944, Parker led International League shortstops in 1945 in putouts, assists and double plays in 1945 with Montreal.

He began his managing career in 1939 in Lubbock and was a player-manager for 12 seasons.

For his career, he had a 1,308-1,183 minor league mark. In 1939, his Shreveport team won the West Texas-New Mexico League title. Parker was named to the All-American Association four games to two. In 1976, he was named Midwest League Manager of the Year in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, with a .76-32 record. That team lost a playoff for the division championship to Quad Cities. His best record was with Dallas of the Texas League in 1957 (1986-87).

He finished first four times in the major leagues. Parker coached with the Giants from 1958-61; with the Indians in 1962; scouted for the Pirates in 1963; coached with the Angels in 1964-66; with the Mets in 1967; with the Atlanta Braves in 1968-72; with the Angels in 1973-74; and again with the Giants in 1975. He was a minor league instructor with the Giants from 1977-85 and with the Seattle Mariners in 1986-87.

of the day on a wet field. Dan Nelson of East wasn't able to get much on a header later in the second quarter. Alex Pineda had a shot from far out in the fourth quarter and Tim Henson was able to make an easy save as he got his second shutout of the playoffs and 12th of the season.

"I think we did a great job with Ramos," said Baker. "Belleville East is to be applauded for their effort. Tactically, they were intelligent all day."

Baker feels he's getting strong play out of a few key players, but he's still looking for more out of certain others. He will be in the sectional. It's not often Granite City goes into the sectional with the best winning percentage of the four teams.

"Highland has speed and they play a high motivation game," Baker said. "Any of these teams is capable of winning. And the winner will have to be careful not to look past the Springfield winner (in the super-sectional)."

Highland goalie Brian Reynolds is a four-year starter, and he came up in the first half kick round with Edwardsville on Tuesday, allowing only one goal. Reynolds and Jeremy Ressman are all sectional players for the Bulldogs.

Meanwhile, O'Fallon upset Collinsville twice in post-season play recently (1987 and 1988). The Panthers and Bulldogs will be back to upset the Kahoks and Warriors and create an all-Mississippi Valley Conference final Saturday.

But Granite City and Collinsville don't want to be tricked on them there in 1986, but the Warriors beat the Lancers 14-10 on Halloween Night that year to clinch the Southwestern Conference title.

Unlike recent years when the Lancers featured Sneed and Forry Wells before him, East leans heavily on the running game. The team runs 100 yards for every pass thrown, which is only slightly less often than the Warriors. Bobby Johnson (509 yards, 7.7 per carry) and James Cotton (405, 6.5) are the primary attack. Quarterback Bob Hill has completed 29 of 50 passes for 445 yards, four touchdowns and three interceptions. Lonnie Eisehant has 17 catches for 179 yards and four touchdowns.

"We've improved each week, but not as much as we hoped," said McGinnis. "We overrated our quickness a little."

The Lancers are big, but not exceedingly quick. They have three 300-pounders listed on their roster, but the player to watch on defense is 6-2, 230-pound senior linebacker Matt Russell, a Division I prospect. He had 126 tackles last year and has 119 more this season.

East won 3- through six games, but beat Collinsville and then scored two touchdowns in the fourth quarter last Friday to come back and beat Belleville West 24-21. That also gave the Lancers the Belleville City championship. They beat Althoff 24-20 on Sept. 13, ending the Crusaders' 27-game winning streak.

NOTES: The Warriors are third in the area. East St. Louis is an Lincoln with 253 points. They ranked fifth in scoring defense (87 points). Mike Vaughn leads the Warriors with nine touchdowns for 54 points. Dan Yates with seven TDs and 44 points. Billy Van Buskirk and Marshall each have 44 points. Yates is 11th in the area in total yards (753) and Chris Pekin is fourth in interceptions with four. If the Warriors don't draw East St. Louis or Belleville East in the first round of the playoffs, other possibilities are Moline and Pekin. Moline needs to win in Cahokia tomorrow to qualify. Pekin is unbeaten and has the state's top-ranked passing.

ing game. Other than those immediate Chicago area players pairings will be announced late teams figure to come out of the Saturday night.

A 1976 State Law requires that all hunters under age 16 successfully complete the hunter safety course before they can receive their first hunting license. Participants completed the hunter safety course at the Hunter Safety Course.

This will be an excellent opportunity for young hunters who need the course in order to qualify for their first hunting license. It also can be beneficial for beginning hunters over 16, even though they do not require the course to be eligible for a license.

The 10 hour course includes instruction in wildlife management, firearms safety, hunter ethics, game identification, first aid, survival techniques and regulations.

HE JUST SPENT NINE MONTHS IN A WARM HOME.
ARE YOU GOING TO LET HIM MOVE INTO A COLD ONE?

For your first nine months, life is usually pretty comfortable.

You're carried everywhere you go. You don't have to worry about eating. And you're always nice and warm.

But then you have to move out. If you're lucky, you end up in another warm home. But if you're like a lot of needy families in Illinois, there's no escaping the cold.

To make matters worse, state government aid to needy families has dropped 40 percent in just one year.

Which is why they're depending on the warmth of people like you.

Your contribution to the Warm Neighbors Fund will help pay their heating bill. We're counting on you to give. And so are lots of needy families.

FOUNDED BY ILLINOIS POWER

BrieflyIP resumes dividend

Illinois Power Co. has reported earnings of $56.3 million, or 74 cents per common share, for the third quarter ended Sept. 30, 1991.

This compares to earnings of $71.4 million, or 94 cents per common share of stock, for the same period in 1990.

The decrease in earnings from the 1990 level is largely the result of an adjustment in rates approved by the Illinois Commerce Commission, in which summer electric rates were decreased and winter rates were increased to narrow the winter/summer rate differential.

For the 12 months ended Sept. 30, 1991, Illinois Power reported a loss of $1.19 per common share compared to earnings of 44 cents per common share for the same period one year earlier.

The 12-month loss is the result of a write-off of $137 million after taxes, or $1.82 per common share, taken in December 1990 to reflect a February 1991 appellate court decision on construction costs for the Clinton Power Station.

Attends moderators conference

Janet Mills of John Hancock Financial Services attended a two-day conference in St. Louis sponsored by the Life Underwriter Training Council, Bethesda, Md.

The conference qualifies Mills to serve as moderator for an LTC personal insurance class scheduled for Lewis and Clark College.

Approximately 25 life underwriters from this area are expected to attend the 26-week course that Mills will lead. The course has been approved by the Illinois Insurance Department for continuing education credit.

More than 38,000 life underwriters participate annually at over 800 locations.

Nobbe attends conference

Dennis Nobbe, recently named one of Linsco/Private Ledger's top 75 financial advisors in the eastern United States, attended a two-day business conference at Cape Cod, Mass., exclusively for the elite group.

Nobbe, branch manager of this community's LPL office, attended the conference as a guest of LPL. LPL is a full-service national financial services firm with more than 1,100 representatives and 540 branch offices nationwide.

"Nobbe has demonstrated a sincere desire to serve the community in which he resides," said LPL Chairman and Chief Executive Officer Todd Robinson. "His performance as one of our top financial advisors in the country is the end result of the exceptional service he provides."

The three-day meeting, held at the historic Chatham Bars Inn, included a keynote address by global economist Lewis Walker, who discussed how clients might capitalize on the recent events in Eastern Europe. A stock market analysis was also presented by LPL Director of Research Weston J. Wellington.

Ad

John 13:36 "For by this shall all men know that ye are my disciples, if that ye have love one for another."

Today the world is starved for love. Everyone is so busy. We do not have time for one another. We pass on the street and never speak to each other. Our eyes never meet. We try with everything within us to avoid one another. There is a coldness and a distant feeling between people.

Why is this? People are without God and His spirit. The Scripture says, "God so loved the world that he gave his heart and let the love of Jesus come in, what a difference it would make. He would replace the coldness with warmth, the sadness with joy, and the tears with laughter. The Word says, "A merry heart worketh good like medicine." The only way to have a meaningful life is to let the only God can give. It is so simple. Just ask God to come into your heart. What a change, what a flood of love will come over you. Set out in a different direction your life will take.

Try Him today.

Hollywood horror movies still around

Horror goes Hollywood every Halloween, resulting in a flood of monster movies on video.

Universal's early 1930s horror movie classics are practically茅nted 101, MCA Universal has reduced the price of its shockers to $14.95 each.

Boris Karloff was the superstar of the genre, creating both the immortal gurnam in "The Mummy" (1932), and the fabulous Frankenstein monster in "Frankenstein" (1931) and "The Bride of Frankenstein" (1935). The latter costumed Elsa Lanchester with the best hiardo in Hollywood history.

Bela Lugosi's vampire count is still with us today — he's even got a breakfast cereal semi-nominalized after him. His debut in "Dracula" (1931) and he introduces a new monster in "The Wolf Man" (1941) by biting Lon Chaney Jr. on the neck.

Two great monster tests by special effects wizard Ray Harryhausen have been reduced by RCA/Columbia to $14.95. A six-armed giant statue and a suddenly animated ship figured among the fantastical scenes in "Golden Voyage of Sinbad" (1974). However, Harryhausen's masterpiece has to be the army of sword-wielding skeletons in "Jason and the Argonauts" (1983), originally based on Greek mythology.

CBS/Fox unleashes a load of out-of-this-world movies at $14.95 each. For the first time on video is Zsa Zsa Gabor's sci-fi fashion show, "The Queen of Outer Space" (1958), in which the Marlonian-born actress says "hate of that character, 'I hate that queen.'

20th Century Fox rolled out a duox of alien movies with "The Day the Earth Stood Still" (1951), featuring a cyclops with a ray-gun eye and Patricia Neal as the heroine muttering variations of "I'm not a robot."

John Agar is one anti-social individual. Extraterrestrial is unquestionably his best role in "It Came From Outer Space" (1953, Goodtimes, $9.95). Both are dopy fun, but don't underestimate the power of George Romero's "Night of the Living Dead" (1968, Republic, $19.98) to cause ty by turning into an insect. Director Stuart Gordon's raunchy "Re-Animator" (1985, MCA, $14.95) is the thrill of nudity along with its scary moments in a fable about a scientific experiment going amok.

The writer-director of the current "City of Hope" (John Saxon, $14.95) has gagged his screampal to "Alligator" (1980, Vestron, $14.98) about an overgrown gator chomping on Chicagoans.

Other members of the animal kingdom that turn into giants and then strut into town are the ants invading Los Angeles in "Them!" (1954, Warner, $24.99); the grasshopper in "Chicago" (1955, Vestron, $9.95); and the eponymous lizard in rural Texas in "The Giant Gila Monster" (1959, Rhino Video, $9.95). Real-life monsters who started out big and enormous are pictured among their human co-stars in "When Dinosaurs Ruled the Earth" (1970, Warner, $9.95).

Your everyday person is transformed into a mindless blob in "The Brain From Planet Arous" (1958, Rhino Video, $9.95), in which a floating brain turns John Agar into one anti-social individual. Extraterrestrial is unquestionably his best role in "It Came From Outer Space" (1953, Goodtimes, $9.95). Both are dopy fun, but don't underestimate the power of George Romero's "Night of the Living Dead" (1968, Republic, $19.98) to cause nightmares, even if it's about something as ludicrous as zombi-eating caterpillars.

Best Bet:

"She's Gotta Have It" (1986, Island, $19.99); Writer-director

actor Spike Lee's first outrage, a sex comedy about a woman

(Tracy Camilla Johns) who does what she wants.

"The Wild, Wild, World of Jayne Mansfield" (1967, Video

Treebones, $19.95). A nutty docu-
